Tags Must Be On, Not In Car

Sheriff Gerald V. Price emphasized this week that a 1/2 drivers must have their 1964 license tags on and not in their automobiles or face a $25 fine.

Any plate which is not in correct location on the rear of the car is considered an im- proper tag. Deputies began pick- ing up all motorists with delin- quent and improper tags last Saturday.

North Central was honored as the all-loop team, with senior fullback Ronnie Fletcher and sophomore end Berlin Lodge named to the squad.

Van Calsem led the Tigers in rushing in nearly every game, gaining sometimes over 100 yards per contest, and was the workhorse of the Tigerbackfield.

Bay High's final football game and St. Stanislaus homecoming and accompanying festivities made last weekend the most eventful of the current school year. As we go to press all local students are enjoying their first long holiday since Sept. 5. Public school pupils were released at the usual hour Wednesday after enjoying an early Thanksgiving dinner in the lunchrooms, featuring turkey, dressing and all the trimmings plus spice cake for dessert. St. Joseph, St. Stanislaus and Our Lady of the Sacred Heart all had their own homecoming parties. St. Joseph's had a homecoming in 50 or more classes were given an additional hour of grace. They were expected to go home at noon.

The football game featured off the season's best in a blaze of glory. St. Stanislaus' defense was superb, stopping the offense in 50 or more places. The game was a close one, with St. Stanislaus leading 14-0 at halftime. The game was a close one, with St. Stanislaus leading 14-0 at halftime. The game was a close one, with St. Stanislaus leading 14-0 at halftime.

Homecoming at St. Stanislaus began with a bonfire and pep rally at 7 p.m. Saturday followed by the parade beginning at 8:30 a.m. The parade, the St. Stanislaus band, attracted the usual happy crowd of spectators. The parade was a success, with St. Stanislaus leading 14-0 at halftime.

David Dahlgren, former Waveland school student, resigned as homecoming king at McDonough High in New Orleans. David and twin sister, Liz, were in Waveland for their homecoming. David and twin sister, Liz, were in Waveland for their homecoming.

Thanksgiving birthday greetings to Carol Western—she'll be 17 on the 23rd.

Bay Bowlers seem to be appearing on Pinbusters fairly regularly these days—Louis (Albert) battled in the junior boys division last Saturday being beaten by a very few pins. Tommy Bryant will try his luck in the same category next Saturday and Paula Crider, a two-week winner on the show goes up against her third competitor, also on Saturday.

Edith Traub, MSC Freshman will be one of the many returning home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

A group of faithful St. Stanislaus rosters travelled to Reserve, La. last Sunday afternoon—Enjoying a well played game despite the final 19-0 score (in Reserve's favor) were Janet Trapani, Marian Egloff, Sue French, Peggy Lamb, Larry Hayward and Janet's father, Frank Trapani.

Lynne Hall is due congratulations once more having made the dean's list at Gulf Park. The Rebel Riders of the Lazy Y really outdid themselves planning and executing the horse show at the arena last Sunday. All proceeds will be used to purchase equipment for the young horsemen. Jeanne and Cynthia Crankey not only secured the most trophies from donors along the coast, but also sold the largest number of programs.

The tissue decorators were busy again Friday night—they were possibly mistaken in an address—Gertrude and Jack Toomey were the victims. . . haven't any idea as to the identity of the perpetrators.

K. OF C. NEWS

Council Activity Chairman Charles Poolson announces there will be a Ship Wreck Dance Saturday with music furnished by the Skyliners of Gulfport. He urges all to come in costume. Prizes will be awarded to best couple and there will be prizes at the door. A dinner will follow. Your donation at the door will cover everything.

We have several on the sick list this week and wish to all of them a speedy recovery. Ivan Bradford is a patient at Hancock General Hospital; Andy Becker is at Touros for a checkup; John Weathers is in Room 21, 10th floor, VA Hospital in New Orleans; Ted Morel is in the Gulfport Hospital and Nellus Favre is having another checkup in the local hospital.

The Council and St. Stanislaus wish to thank all who participated and helped promote the Flea-Fly Football Classic. This was the 45th consecutive game. Proceeds go towards education of a priest and a brother of the Sacred Heart.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Watson Johns on the arrival of their new daughter.

Anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Arceneaux, Nov. 19, on the occasion of their 42nd. Birthday greetings to John Koenen, Nov. 22, his 27th.

The council will hold its next regular meeting Monday. Several special meetings will be held the next two weeks to complete details for the forthcoming exemplification of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Degrees at Pass Christian on Dec. 10. It is expected that 15 new members will enter from this council.

An election to fill the unexpired term of the late Lucas Pucheu, Jr., trustee, will be held Dec. 4.

The council will assist the CYC of Our Lady of Gulf Parish at their Thanksgiving dance Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Little—S.A.C. which we are led to believe stands of Seaman Apprentice Centimeter-brain. . . this was given the young lady by Cmdr. P.A.C.

Members of the Bay High FFA attended the fall subscription meeting Saturday. They were accompanied by Club sponsor, Mrs. Juanita Ervin.

New Beta Club members were installed at an impressive candle-light ceremony in the Bay High auditorium last Wednesday. Top magazine salesmen were awarded stuffed dogs after the installation. Six-week tests will begin Monday—students will have exams will be given in three days instead of the usual five due to the Thanksgiving holidays.

Happy birthday to Miss Martha Lynch who was 12 Tuesday last Nov. 7.

SSC Alumni Elect

Earle J. Christenberry, Jr., class of 1945, was elected by acclamation as president of St. Stanislaus College Alumni Assn. at its annual meeting Sunday as part of the school's homecoming activities.

Other officers chosen were Berchmans Wilbert, '23, first vice president; William App, Jr., '61, second vice president, and Brother Athanasius, secretary-treasurer.

Named to the executive committee were: A. J. Brady, '27; Lawrence Vallone, '31; Curtis Mathe, '33; Joseph H. Plunkett, '27; Robert Labrano, '61; Arthur Scalfide, Jr., '45; John Scalfide, '29; Michael Irvin, '16; Joseph Colson, '39; J. Van Clooster, '34; William Foster, '31, and A. J. (Tuga) Glover, '30. Four local men were named to the executive committee.

William Foster, president, conducted the business meeting and Brother Hugh, SSC president, welcomed the former graduates, urging a greater attendance next year. A new set of by-laws was read and approved unanimously.

A minute of silent prayer was held for three former teachers at the college who have died in the last year: Brothers William, Alvin and Cosimir.

The alumni agreed to help the college bank become recognized by giving monetary or instrument donations.

Peresich, Glass Win PCI Tourney

Giles Peresich of Biloxi, winner of a host of championships along the Gulf Coast and elsewhere, birdied the first hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday to win the seventh annual Pass Christian Golf Club invitational tournament and break a tie with Max Tullos of Cleveland. Both had finished at 145, putting identical rounds of 72-73 in the 36-hole medal play affair. Peresich got a four on the par 5 first hole while Tullos found the sand trap with his second shot and needed five strokes on the hole.

Third place went to Bob Hayes and fourth to Micky Bellande. Last year's championship flight winner, Roy Smith of Hattiesburg, was well down the list at 155. Mrs. Powell Glass, Jr., of the host club won the women's division with a 167 total, adding a final round of 77 to go with a 90 from Saturday. Mrs. John Twombly of Biloxi finished second at 169. Mrs. Theresa Hogan and Mrs. James Durham tied at the next place, the latter winning the third prize on the draw.

The tournament drew the largest field in its history, attracting more than 170 players from along the coast, elsewhere in Mississippi and neighboring states. Dormless caught late starters both days in some cases front nine scores had to be doubled. Dr. John Griffin, tournament chairman, officiated at the presentation of prizes Sunday night and awards were made by Dick Tarleton, club pro.

A highlight of the event was a hole in one scored by Mrs. L. Rumick of New Orleans' Lakewood Country Club on No. 17, a par three, Sunday. Her shot hit short of the green, rolled on up and trickled into the hole. Winners in other men's flights, in order of finish, were first, Anson Holley, 148; Al Deemie, Charles Stewart, Ben Weddington; second, Ricardo Alvarez, 157; Jim Guthrie, Ed Anlage, Lloyd Humphrey; third, Ward Guillot, 163; Fred Leevel, Bob Barousse, Ray Bouvier; fourth, J. Meys, 165; Bob Cardin, Mel Bounds, Dan Rehn; fifth, Hayward Vincent, 172; Jim Cheek, Jack Fairchild, Alex Sheldin; sixth, Bob McCullough, 182; Howard McCurdy, Bill Hero, Jim Tume; seventh, Charles Holley, 183; Bill Cooley, Richard Black, Sidney Prague; eighth, M. J. Mibove, 203; Al Burnly, Mo Hymel.

In the women's division, first flight, Maude Maguire, 184; Frances Favre, Devota Milton, Mrs. Walter Gex, Jr.; second, Maud Frye, Mrs. Floyd Wallis, Mrs. Wallace Little, Mrs. H. C. Evans.

Prizes for the shots closest to the pin on No. 7 went to Max Tullos and Mrs. Hogan.

It has been a little over 340 years since a handful of stalwart Pilgrims and friendly Indians bowed their heads in grateful prayer before devouring a feast of wild turkey, corn, boiled acorns and other fare of that day which was Dec. 13, 1621—the place, Plymouth, Mass. Having forgotten much elementary history, we had sort of assumed that THANKSGIVING had been an annual event from that day forward. Not so, however—the next Thanksgiving was celebrated by the 13 colonies on Nov. 26, 1789, by decree of then President George Washington to express gratitude for deliverance from the Redcoats of the British and the ensuing formation of the beginnings of our present form of government. . . the custom did not become a national yearly holiday until Abraham Lincoln proclaimed that the fourth Thursday in November should be set aside as a day of thanksgiving each year in 1863—this continued until 1939 when the late Franklin D. Roosevelt decided that business would improve with a little more shopping time between holidays and moved the day back one week in 1939—and just as we pen these lines it's with horror we realize it's much too close to Christmas already and intend to wire President Kennedy a suggestion—combine Halloween and Thanksgiving next year and perhaps everyone could really get that fabled EARLY SHOPPING accomplished before Dec. 24th.

So much for our historical review, let's see how local residents plan to spend Nov. 26, 1961.

Big Weekend in the Offing

Summer residents, many of whom haven't been over since Labor Day, plan to take advantage of the long holiday to weekend on the Coast. . . Our good friend Freddie Gerstner (thank you for the passes, incidentally), Mrs. Gerstner, the Lionel Gerstners, Lionel, Jr., and Janet have all been looking forward to eating their turkey in Gerstner's Villa—others will include Winnie and Jack Holmes, the W. J. Adams, the Fred Listers, C. L. Hutchinsons, Mrs. Hazel Dahlin, Emma and David Dahlgren, Carmen and Dan Kirschenehauer, Gladys and Harry Blanke, the O'Neills, whose names happen to be Gladys and Harry also, R. J. Trico, Richard Toribio, Peggy and Claude Duke, Omega and Hoppel Szynze and the Armand Serpas clan are some of those hoping their fingers crossed for plenty of sunshine and good fishing weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Langridge spend most of their weekends beautifying the yard of their recently acquired summer home on Jeff Davis.

Emmie and Eddie Montgomery were busy planning for a Sunday visit from their granddaughter, and, of course, daughter Sally and son-in-law Doug Hayward.

Bobbie and Maxie Trelles' newest son and heir arrived late last week—as he was born in a New Orleans hospital we haven't acquired vital statistics to date.

Wilfred Bordages, better known as 'Uncle Wolfie' was released from Veterans' in the Crescent City last Friday and happy he was to return to Bayou Caddy and environs.

Travelling to the big city Sunday to view the Shrine Circus were Ann Langley, Ed Ruhr and Ann's sons, Gil and Roland. They met the Thorninges, Bobbie and Sonny and children—the little ones were most impressed with Sky King and Peggy and prize autographs from the 'Great McNut'.

LOOK HERE, FRED—Mayor Garfield Ladner of Waveland, who took up fishing a few short weeks ago, poses for this picture as proof positive to Town Marshal Fred Bourgeois, local angler extraordinaire, that he pulled in 18 red fish and one trout off the seawall near Jackson Ridge last Friday. (EDITOR'S NOTE—They tasted delicious.)

the La.-Miss. area. There's one consolation, however, there's been no change in the regulation regarding the delicious teal duck—he's just as illegal and unobtainable as in bygone years.

Complaint Dept.

This really is directed more at our sister city of Bay St. Louis, but it happens in Waveland also on occasion—cars parked on each side of streets almost too narrow for one vehicle to pass through without removing several layers of paint! Almost everyone has a driveway, but some seem to have absolutely no inclination to use them.

Animal Notes

The Roses, Berry, Fred, Lynn, Glen and Jeff are justly proud of their lovely collie pup—a gift of friends from Baton Rouge—the boys, Glen and Jeff, were heartbroken when their dog was killed by a speeding automobile—the new pup has done much to assuage their grief.

Sympathy to Joe Daboud, just a week after he and Myrtle returned to Waveland to again make their home in Mossy Manor, his father, Jack Daboud, passed away in New Orleans.

On the Avenue

Mrs. Sarah Macaluso Thorning, who drove over from New Orleans especially to attend the 76th birthday party of Bill Lusich's mother, which was Friday, Nov. 18, Polly Gaudet in working attire, blue denim shirt and jeans, Cas Ladner leaning on his inevitable cane discussing the world situation with Alphonse Favre,

At Pearl River,

5 Others Honored

James William Watts, Bay High School graduate, was among four students at Pearl River Junior College to make the A honor roll for the first nine weeks of the current semester.

Five other students from this county made the A and B honor list which numbered 27. They were Mildred Parker, Bay High graduate; Fred J. Bourgeois, Jr., and Albert P. Saucier, both St. Stanislaus graduates; J. Charles Smith of Hancock North Central and Mrs. Irena M. Spiers of Kiln High School.

On Duty in Germany

Army Specialist Four Charles A. Lyle, whose wife, Clara, lives in Southwest Harbor, Maine, is a member of the 54th Engineer Battalion in Germany.

A cook in the battalion's Co. C in Wildflecken, he entered the Army in October 1954. The 25-year-old soldier, son of Leon J. Lyle, R. 4, C. Picayune, attended Picayune High School.

Faye Vaughn and granddaughter Carol Faye who is enjoying a long school holiday, Mr. Stromeyer, former bakery owner, revisiting his old haunts, and Harold Zimmerman, his station wagon always equipped—with fishing tackle, that is!

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY—A chubby, small girl sitting blissfully in the center of the family driveway appearing to eat a mud pie, quite unmindful of the drizzling rain—a shroud of crows tightly enveloping a tall, leafless, limbless pine tree and the spirals of smoke from myriad tiny bonfires bleeding into a sky filling haze to blur the fiery sunset and the late refracting clouds of rainfrogs, a nostalgic summer sound as each day brings darkness noticeably earlier on the road to this reluctant winter. Have a wonderful Thanksgiving one and all!

Girl Scout Troop 340 Celebrates 1st Birthday

Girl Scout Troop 340 with co-leaders Mrs. John Rutherford and Mrs. Jack Baum celebrated its first birthday Friday at the Methodist Fellowship Hall with mothers and teachers as guests. Honored guests were Mrs. C. McDonald, regional committee member, and Mrs. John Wilkerson, American Legion auxiliary president.

Presentation of colors opened the program. The scouts gave a skit, Green Bananas, and song selections of Indian Rain Song, Girl Scouts Together and America The Beautiful.

The troop, sponsored by the Legion auxiliary was presented with an American Flag by auxiliary president Mrs. John Wilkerson. The flag was furnished by the Legion Americanism committee.

Waveland HD Meets

The Waveland Home Demonstration Club will meet at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John Munch, 230 Waveland Ave., with Mrs. David Markey as co-hostess.

Thanksgiving

Aboard their small sailing vessel anchored off the New England Coast November 11, 1620, forty-one heroic Englishmen signed the Mayflower Compact which, according to William Bradford, was to hold in check the restless individuals on board, who had threatened to strike out on their own when they landed. This became America's first venture in self government.

In establishing the Plymouth Colony, these Pilgrim Fathers suffered the hardships of a bitter winter. With food scarce and disease prevalent, nearly half their number died. They soon discovered that their original compact for the common ownership of property and crops was not workable. Several were lazy and seditious and refused to assume their responsibilities, expecting favored treatment, but equal returns. So America's first experiment in socialism failed and was abandoned.

These pioneering Pilgrims then turned to the principles of private ownership and individual effort, as the only hope of immediate survival and ultimate success, to sow the seed of capitalism in the New World.

With a successful corn crop in 1621, Governor Bradford decreed that a day be set aside to express thanks to God for an abundant harvest and His guidance and protection.

As we observe the anniversary of that first Thanksgiving Day, it is well that we do so reverently, and that we rededicate ourselves to the preservation of the American concepts of individual responsibility, character, thrift and self government first established and commemorated at Plymouth by our Pilgrim Fathers.

Caceres Adds SSC Victory
 St. Stanislaus scored early and a successful extra point proved to be the margin of difference as the Rocks edged Hahnville High School 7-6 to close out their 1961 football season, Sunday afternoon during homecoming festivities at SSC Stadium.

St. Stanislaus thrilled a wildly-cheering huge crowd with some excellent defensive play, especially in the fourth quarter. The Rockchaws scored in the opening half when halfback Waldo Caceres, one of the best backs on the coast, broke away on a 35 yard run to score the only SSC touchdown. Quarterback Mike Gore scored the all-important extra point to up the lead to 7-0.

Late in the third quarter, Hahnville began to move, and the Tigers scored just before the quarter ended. The PAT attempt failed, and St. Stanislaus clung to a 7-6 lead.

In the final quarter, Hahnville went to the air to try to get the winning score, but on their final try, two long passes missed the mark and SSC took the Tiger punt near the 50 yard line. Three quarterback sneaks by Gore and an 11-yard run by Caceres ran out the clock.

It was the fourth victory in the last five games for the Rockchaws, and the St. Stanislaus season record was 4-5. Eight seniors played their final game Sunday afternoon.

Head Coach Reuben Ruiz commended the work of Larry Fee and Caceres on defense. Caceres, following the game, was presented a trophy as the game's most outstanding player.
